CHASING MILLIONS

Chasing Millions is a drama-comedy heist film loosely based on the record-breaking Northern Bank robbery. Thrown together against their will, a determined Australian detective and a world-weary Belfast cop must track down £26 million only for their investigation to spiral into a series of wild and unexpected twists.

“This film marks my first exploration of post-conflict Northern Ireland through a primarily comedic lens. The aftermath of the Northern Bank robbery, with its many twists and unexpected turns, offers a perfect foundation for a dark, character-driven comedy.”

DIRECTOR STEPEN BURKE

 Directed by Stephen Burke. Produced by Jane Doolan & Michael Wrenn for Mammoth Films Limited.

hen Belgian tech visionaries Luc and Geert learn that their fraud will hit the papers in less than 24 hours, they realise their company and their status will evaporate. With jail time becoming inevitable, they each go on their separate paths of redemption. As they quietly seek atonement from their investors – their families and the close-knit community, they learn what truly matters.

“This is not a hero’s journey, a fight against the odds, but a suspenseful story of two characters who have to come to terms with themselves, without all the status, the money and the fame.”

DIRECTOR ANKE BLONDÉ

“Mumbo Jumbo” is a tale about believing in the strength within yourself. A tale about accepting your own size in the universe. It’s important for small people, and remember now, that small people are people too.”

DIRECTOR KARSTEN KIILERICH

TELL EVERYONE

A free spirited young woman in 19th century Finland arrives at a women's isolated Island, a destination for troublesome females. With her freedom taken away, she must adjust to a new life in confinement and after numerous failed attempts to escape, she eventually resigns herself to her fate. She even forms close bonds with the other patients, and falls in love with a local fisherman, but the divide between patients and local islanders is not traversable and all seems to lead to a tragic end.

"As soon as you disembark the local ferry on the island of Seili, you are stunned by the beauty and peace of the remote island. This is where an asylum for women stood, and you would think that here, people truly could get better. But the women brought here were not expected to get better; they were brought here to stay for life."

DIRECTOR ALLI HAAPASALO

THE KIDNAPPING OF A PRESIDENT

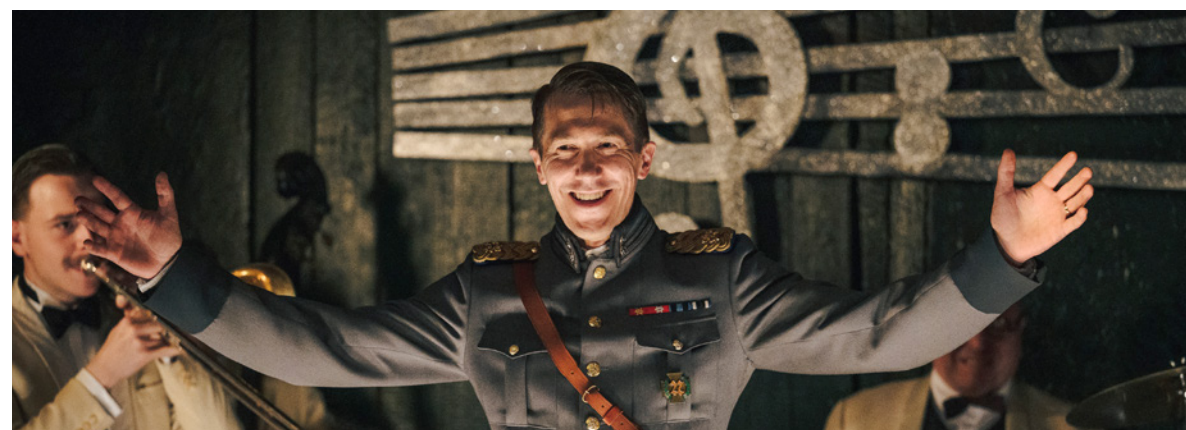

In 1930s Finland, far-right officers drunkenly decide to start a revolution by ordering the kidnapping of the country's first president. By morning, they've forgotten all about it, but the plan is already underway, carried out by a group of eager but incompetent young men.

THE KIDNAPPING OF A PRESIDENT / SATIRE / 87 MIN. / CZ, EE, FI, NL / 2026

Directed by Samuli Valkama. Produced by John Lundsten & Melli Maikkula for Tack Film.

Cast: Jussi Vatanen, Aku Sipola & Riitta Havukainen. Budget: €2.8M.

Domestic release: 4. September 2026 by Nordisk Film.

"I'm drawn to this story because it reveals how fragile democracy can be, how quickly things can spiral when reason gives way to emotion. Through satire and suspense, the film examines the absurdity of power, the chaos of incompetence, and the unsettling truth that history often repeats itself—not as tragedy or farce, but as both."

DIRECTOR SAMULI VALKAMA

THE SOUNDMAN

May 1940. As Europe slides into war, the airwaves of Brussels' iconic Flagey building pulse with voices and dreams. Elza, a young actress enchanted by the magic of radio drama, meets Berre, a soundman with an almost otherworldly ear. In a world about to fall silent under the weight of history, their love begins to hum — fragile, defiant, and alive.

“The Soundman is a love story in an ungraspable world, where sorrow and joy walk hand in hand – and where, ultimately, warmth prevails.”

DIRECTOR FRANK VAN PASSEL

THE SOUNDMAN / DRAMA / 118 MIN / BELGIUM / 2025

Directed by Frank Van Passel. Produced by Helena Vlogaert & Bert Hamelinck for CAVIAR / LOMPVIS.

Cast: Jef Hellemans, Femke Vanhove & Koen De Bouw. Budget: €4.2M.

OUR GIRLS

During an idyllic holiday in the Austrian Alps, the long-standing friendship between two couples spins out of control when an unthinkable accident forces them to decide how far they will go, and which lines they will cross, to save their daughters.

OUR GIRLS / DRAMA / 103 MIN / NL, AT, BE / 2025
 Directed by Mike Van Diem. Produced by Koji Nelissen, Derk-Jan Warrink & Marijn Wigman for Keplerfilm and Nuts & Bolts Film Company.
 Cast: Ilekla Reuten, Fedja van Huet & Noortje Herlaar. Budget: €5.4M.
 Domestic release: 2. October 2025 by Dutch Film Works

“In this film, I wonder: is that insurmountable loneliness the main reason we cling to our children, above all else? And is this why we go to extremes to do anything for those children, because they are our last hope? In the film, that last hope threatens to fall away and reveals how fragile the main characters’ individual construction of their existence is.”

DIRECTOR MIKE VAN DIEM

BETTY BALLOON

Mom Balloon is an inventor, Dad Balloon stays at home, big brother Bobby is eleven, and the heart of it all is Betty Balloon, a creative and imaginative four-year-old. Life turns upside down when a cactus family moves in next door. Mom Cactus, Dad Cactus, teenage sister Karla Cactus and four-year-old Kaj Cactus all face challenges adapting to their new, damp, and chilly surroundings. The Balloon family must learn to connect with their new neighbours, but it is the children who take the first step when Betty becomes best friends with Kaj Cactus. In the Betty Balloon universe, it is the kids who teach the adults how to open up and stay curious.
